

Evidence for Healing

Look back through the doctor notes and your noticings about them. Highlight clues you find that healing is happening. Some clues will be observations from the doctor about what is happening inside the patient's body. Other clues will be the actions the doctor took in their care of the patient. In the table below, record important clues that you think indicate that healing was occurring in the foot and why you think each clue could be evidence that healing is happening.

Important clue that you think could be evidence of healing	Why do you think this clue could be evidence that healing is happening?