Supporting Healing with Different Methods

Instructions: Create an infographic or short oral presentation to communicate how your chosen healing method supports healing of the body's cells, structures, and systems. Use the table below to keep track of the ideas you need to share in your infographic/presentation.

Category of Healing Methods
What are healing methods from your community that make up this larger category?
When should this method be used?
How does this method help support the healing process?
How do you know when a person no longer needs this support?
How is this support similar and different to other supports?
